

Project Connect is a new and innovative initiative focused on addressing issues related to the digital divide. Access to quality computers and internet is an urgent issue for individuals and families across the world. The issues surrounding the digital divide are wreaking havoc on the lives of individuals and our communities. It perpetuates inequities and disparities socially and economically. Not having access to the technical tools necessary to successfully engage in society is leaving a trail of negative outcomes, especially for the most vulnerable. Those who do not have access will undoubtedly be left behind and left out, as the world continues to become more inaccessible to them and as technology continues to advance and transform our ways of engaging and interacting.
